The 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership

Course Overview

One of the most important truths I've learned over the years is this: Leadership is leadership, no matter where you go or what you do. Times change. Technology marches forward. Cultures vary from place to place. But the true principles of leadership are constant--whether you're looking at the citizens of ancient Greece, the Hebrews in the Old Testament, the armies of the last two hundred years, the rulers of modern Europe, the pastors in local churches, or the business people of today's global economy. Leadership principles stand the test of time. They are irrefutable.

Whether you are a follower who is just beginning to discover the impact of leadership or a natural leader who already has followers, you can become a better leader. As you read about the laws, you'll recognize that you may already practice some of them effectively. Other laws will expose weaknesses you didn't know you had. But the greater the number of laws you learn, the better leader you will become. Each law is like a tool, ready to be picked up and used to help you achieve your dreams and add value to other people. Pick up even one, and you will become a better leader. Learn them all, and people will gladly follow you.

Choosing a Life That Matters - For people who dare to live a life of significance.

“I want to make a difference, doing something that makes a difference, with people who make a difference, at a time that makes a difference.” ~ John Maxwell

Your Life can Be a Great Story. Everyone loves a good story. In your opinion:

What kinds of stories seem to connect with people the most?

Do you think most people see themselves as the hero of their own story or as a secondary character in someone else's?

What might cause someone to think that way?

If you could write your future story, what would it look like for you?

What things would you change about how you're currently living, and what new things would you add in?
