WITH THE JOHN MAXWELL TEAM

In addition to executive leadership coaching, I also have over 20 years of experience as a technology executive, Enterprise Agile Coach SPC, Mentor, Trainer, and Facilitator. As the founder of the Leaders Journey Mentorship Program, I am dedicated to helping you and your organization move beyond the tipping point to reach your full potential with greater influence and increased effectiveness.

Everyone thrives when they have mentors. There is always someone in the background of significant and successful people. Nothing of great significance is ever accomplished alone. Even those who might appear to be “self-made” didn’t do it alone. This is the same commonality that is absent in the lives of the average, underachievers, and the time-wasters. Highly successful people ALL have regular access to mentors!

Act with intentionality and get started today!
